BUSBY HAZING

Midshipmen Encouraged to Engage in Athletic Sports.

DISCIPLINE IS PRAISED

Report of Board of Visitors to Naval Academy.

FOR POUGHKEEPSIE REGATTA

Success of the Institution's Purpose. Three Years' Detail of Officers Urged.

According to the board of visitors to the United States Naval Academy, of which Gen. Horace Porter of New York was president, there were no cases of hazing at that institution in the past year. The report of the board, "just made public at the Navy Department," contains this statement on the subject:

"The board is very favorably impressed with the discipline maintained, and commends the methods of the superintendent, commandant and officers in the discipline department. Investigation did not disclose any evidence of hazing."

Encouragement of Athletics. Regarding the general subject of athletics the board says:

"It is quite evident that the attitude of the authorities on the subject of athletics has an important bearing on the obedience of the midshipmen to the rules and regulations. The promotion of all kinds of physical exercise naturally decreases the tendency to offend against discipline. Every effort made to employ the physical and bodies of the midshipmen in healthy exercise and entertainment inside of the grounds of the academy meets with a ready response and helps to remove the tendency to break bounds or to seek amusement in ways that are not permitted."

The board approves the maintenance of the recognized forms of competitive athletics—for instance, the academy base ball, foot ball and track athletic teams—with their games with the Military Academy and the various universities; also the academy eight-oared crew, which the board believes should participate annually in the college regatta at Poughkeepsie; also that every reasonable form of physical exercise for which there is room in or about the buildings should be provided. There is already an ample number of dirt tennis courts, but some of them should be concreted to permit playing in winter. Several basketball courts should be put up in the armory, and there are adequate and appropriate spaces for installing hand ball courts, billiard and pool tables and bowling alleys. All these can be put in at slight expense and are natural healthy forms of recreation, some of which must tend to remove the tendency to hazing. Especially should floating baths be provided at some convenient point where the waters of the Severn river are not polluted by sewage. The midshipmen who are required to swim in the Severn river during the summer (fourth classmen) should have every opportunity for swimming in salt water in the open air. At present the only pool of salt water is the only provision, and there is no bathing beach or floating bath."

Success of the Academy.

Realizing that the purpose of the academy is to instruct and train young men for the many responsibilities and duties of a naval officer, the board says it was highly impressed by the success with which the institution is at present managed. The maintenance of the present high standard for admission, the insistence of a full four years' course, and the broad scope of instruction, says the report, all tend to prepare the graduate for his future career and equip him for any branch of the service, leaving specialization to post-graduate courses. That is, in the opinion of the board, as it should be. The effort to make the instruction thoroughly practical and not theoretical is specially commended.

The board recommends legislation to commission midshipmen as ensigns on graduation. This will, it says, rectify the unfairness of the past midshipman's position, under which he performed the duties of an officer, but without a commission, with inadequate pay and no right of retirement. In the case of disability or injury, and would be put in on an equality with a graduate of the United States Military Academy.

The board also recommends that officers serving at the Naval Academy should be detailed for a period of three years, and that no officer should be called upon to perform duty in more than one department.

The John Paul Jones Crypt.

The estimate of the architect of the amount necessary to construct the crypt in which it is the intention to deposit the remains of Admiral John Paul Jones is $150,000, to make it conform entirely with the beauty and character of the architecture of the chapel. With some modifications, the crypt would be a fitting and sufficient dignity and character for a minimum amount of $150,000. During three years the body of this illustrious admiral has remained without permanent resting place, owing to the neglect to provide the necessary means, and the board earnestly recommends the early appropriation of the above amount.

SUBCONTRACTOR COMPLAINS.

Justice Bernard today cited Secretary Cortelyou, Secretary Metcalf, Treasurer Treat and the Rockwell Engineering Company, a New York corporation, to show cause September 1 why an injunction should not issue against them to prevent the payment to the Rockwell Engineering Company of $1,177.50 for work done for the Navy Department.

The citation is based on the request of the Southern Lumber and Coal Company of Charleston, S. C., which declares, furnished, as a subcontractor to the defendant, Rockwell Engineering Company, materials used in the construction of certain work for the Navy Department and has not been paid. The complaint avers that the Engineering Company is insolvent and requests that payment be not made to the trustees for the alleged insolvent concern. It is alleged that settlements will be made unless the court intervenes.

Thomas Brown, Unable to Give $1,000 Bonds, Remanded to Prison.

Thomas Brown, arrested several days ago upon charges of a serious nature preferred by Cecelia Campbell, fifteen years old, of 210 B street northwest, was given a preliminary hearing before Judge Kimball in Police Court today, and held in $1,000 bond for the action of the grand jury.

Several witnesses for the government testified, including the mother of the complainant. In default of the necessary security the defendant was remanded to prison pending further developments in the case.

The specifications call for sewers in that part of Arkansas avenue in Sault's addition and in New Hampshire avenue from Otis street to Rock Creek Church road, also in New Hampshire avenue from Otis street to Newton street and in Newton street from New Hampshire avenue to Georgia avenue.
